SETTING MODE

DISTANCE

This section provides data on the course distance, number of laps, and the type of road.

TARMAC

Tarmac is a paved road and usually great to drive on.

GRAVEL

Gravel, sand and mud make these roads tricky.

SNOW

Snow and ice are hazards one must always be wary of.

MACHINE

What kind of car do you want? Remember, the type of tires, engine, and drive you choose will dramatically affect your racing performance.

TIRES

There are fifteen kinds of tires to choose from. Consider the road conditions, and then make your decision.

Move the cursor to TIRE and press A.

The Tire Select Screen will appear.

Press A for the tire list.

Choose the tires you want.

INTAKE

Press A to select either Normal or Turbo. You can really burn rubber with Turbo, but if it is a warm day, chances are you'll overheat.

DRIVE

Under good conditions, 2-wheel drive is the best choice, but under poor road conditions, the car will slip and spin. That is when 4-wheel drive is a better choice.

THE RACE HAS BIGAN!

After viewing the Course Data Screen, press START and the Present Record Screen will appear, showing the current lap times. Press A to see the last four times. A word of caution: if you crash too many times, your car will explode and you will be placed last.

Here are the current lap times.
The maximum time allowed to finish is 10 minutes.

SPEED

Pressing A will move your car at low speed. This is a good way to start.

Then press B to cruise at a higher speed.

■ Drifting around a Curve

Get ready to drift.

Press A and B while going around the curve.

Made it! No sweat for a pro!

Nintendo

■ Reverse

A crash—bummer! Press the Down key for reverse.

Back up and then stop.

Press the Up key and get back on track!

■ Overheating

If OV appears in the upper right corner, slow down to cool the engine.

■ Changing Tires

Select as quickly as possible because the timer is still running.

AFTER THE RACE

A point list appears at the end of each round. Whoever has the most points at the end of the Championship Mode takes the cup!
